PROFILE

I am a motivated software professional with knowledge of Java, Manual Testing, and Automation Testing. I have experience creating test cases, finding bugs, and ensuring applications work properly. I am a quick learner, good team player, and interested in improving software quality and building reliable applications.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

Smart Dustbin Using IOT 2022

- Controller Board: Arduino, NodeMCU, or Raspberry Pi is used to control and process the smart dustbin operations.
- Sensors & Motor: An ultrasonic sensor detects a person approaching, and a servo motor automatically opens and closes the dustbin lid.
- Power Supply: The system runs using a battery or power adapter to supply electricity to all components.

Road Damge Detection Inhanced Safety Using IOT 2024

- Controller Board: Arduino, NodeMCU, or Raspberry Pi collects and processes data from sensors to monitor road conditions.
- Damage Detection: An accelerometer/gyroscope sensor continuously tracks vibrations and detects irregularities caused by road damage while the vehicle is moving.
- Location Tracking: A GPS module records the exact location of detected damage to improve safety and enable quick reporting.

Intelligent Regional Language Web Testing using Java 2024

- Hybrid Testing Approach: Designed manual test cases and automated scripts using Java with Selenium to validate multilingual website functionality and UI behavior.
- Smart Validation: Automated form testing, dynamic content checks, and cross-browser compatibility while manually verifying regional language text accuracy and usability.
